

The Fourth Öresund Symposium on Clinical Skills Training

Objectives of the symposium

To give health professionals, politicians and decision makers in health care, as well as medical educators, new insights in the field of clinical skills training

Date: Wednesday, November 21, 2007

Venue: Assembly Hall, MFC, Entrance 59, Malmö University Hospital

Registration: The symposium is free of charge, registration is however necessary and will be possible from ca September 1st

Final programme: Will be distributed ca September 1st and also be available on internet, www.cms.umass.se

Preliminary programme

Cognitive Skills - Communication

Keynote speaker: Lorelei Lingard

- 1. Communication and development of novices' professional identity
- 2. Utilization of language as a patient safety tool

Lorelei Lingard has a PhD in rhetoric and is associate professor at the Wilson Center, University of Toronto, and also works as a scientist and professional educator at The Hospital for Sick Children.

What's in the technical forefront?

Keynote speaker: To be announced

How to measure training

Keynote speaker: Peter Dieckmann

Process-oriented evaluation

Peter Dieckmann has a PhD in work and organizational psychology and works for DIMS, Danish Institute for Medical Simulation and Centre for Patient Safety and Simulation at the University Hospital in Tuebingen, Germany

Host

Centre for Medical Simulation, Malmö University Hospital, Malmö, Sweden

Co-organizers

Danish Institute for Medical Simulation, Herlev
Practicum, Lund University Hospital
Rigshospitalet, København

More information can be obtained by mid-August from christer.carlsson@skane.se or cecilia.holm@skane.se